PATENT WROUGHT IRON

Enameled WATER PIPE.

This pipe is enameled under great heat, both inside and out which gives it a hard, glass surface and, from well known chemists, Dr. Isaiah Hayes, State Assayer and Chemist for the Massachusetts Board of Health, I commenced the investigation with some doubts as to its Enameled Pipe, but the severe tests which I have employed proves that it is perfectly free from disintegration, durability, these being the properties of most importance in water pipe.

Fittings of this and other pipe and fittings always in stock on hand, and for sale at lowest market price.

PLYMOUTH CHURCH.

The Advisory Council at Work.

Dr. Bell in a Hurry.

Proceedings on Wednesday.

The Attendance and Opening of the Business Session

NEW YORK, Feb 16 When the business session of the Plymouth church Advisory Council was called to order the body of the church and the galleries presented an unfinished appearance. Mrs Beecher occupied the same seat in which she sat yesterday. The minutes of yesterday's session were read and after some unimportant corrections were approved.

One of the delegates asked if it would not be well for the three members who were not present last night to have their names enrolled The moderator said if any such were in the room they should at once give their names to the Scribe

Resolutions Offered by Rev Dr Bell

Rev Dr Bell of the Mansfield Ct church offered the following resolutions

Resolved 1 It is our firm belief that Mr Henry Ward Beecher is innocent of the shameful charge publicly laid to his charge

Resolved 2 We regard with profound sorrow and bitter grief the conduct of the members of Plymouth church Brooklyn in their pastor especially because by these we have been enabled to derive all the facts by which we know he is innocent and specially so because thus they have exemplified the beauty, fidelity and glory of their faith as it is in Christ Jesus Our Saviour and our Lord

Called to Order

Dr Bell rose to speak in favor of the resolution, but was called to order by Mr Beecher Dr Bacon decided that the point was well taken but Dr Bell still continued to talk The moderator said that he had decided Dr Bell rose and said if he will let appeal from the decision he would do so Dr Bell then spoke though very indistinctly he did not desired to talk but the question was called for from 11 parts of the House Dr Bacon put the question and was sustained by nearly every delegate in the church

Report of the Business Committee

The moderator then said they would listen to a report from the Business Committee The chairman Lyman Abbott, then made a report in relation to the protest presented to the Council by ex Deacon Wm F West The Committee recommended that the protest be read to the Council and then referred to the special committee appointed yesterday They did not want to express any opinion They did not want to express a precedent for the future or to follow on the past but the experience of the past must be taken into consideration and it would not do to have it said that an ex-officer of Plymouth church had presented a protest which was not heard On motion the report was adopted

Mr West's Protest Read

Mr West protest was then read by Mr Abbott In the protest Mr West begins by saying that in the first sentence of the letter in Plymouth church finds its good name called in question on account of the principles and rules adopted many years for the regulation of its internal affairs He holds that its good name has not been called in question because of its rules but that the whole cause is contained in its extraordinary conduct in dropping from May 11 the name of Elizabeth Tilton and later the name of Mrs Emma C Moulton As a member of Plymouth church he protests against the action of the Council of any other questions except the guilt or innocence of Mr. Beecher He thinks that he himself was referred to in the fourth question asked by the church and says he was compelled to adopt the course he did on account of Congregational usage His object was by a council mutually agreed upon to settle the matter He asked if he was right in his course and if the church was right in calling an advisory council

Mr Shearman Presents the Case of the Church

After the reading Mr Beecher ascended the platform and announced that Mr Shearman would present the case for the church in 6 said He or I either of us will be subject to such questions as may suggest themselves to the minds of the Council

Mr Shearman then went upon the platform and made a long and explanatory statement of the case of Plymouth Church traversing again all the ground gone over yesterday by the Pastor and Dr Edward Beecher, and taking up in addition the subject of the mutual council

The Council then adjourned till 2 o'clock that the committees might have an opportunity of getting through with the vast amount of work they had on their hands

Afternoon Session

The spectators numbered twice as many as in the morning The Assistant Moderator Ex Gov Dingley of Maine called the Council to order The session opened with prayer after which Mr Shearman resumed He said he had been suggested to him that he had not fully stated the case of the mutual council He then went on detailing at length the matter of the opposition offered by the committee to a council in which certain delegates should sit as members He also considered the subject of the sixth questions as to whether or not Plymouth church had gone beyond its depth as a church of Christ so as to justly forfeit its claim to the confidence and fellowship of Congregational churches and read a lengthy report of the investigation which was had in the matter by the committee appointed for that purpose by the church

In closing, Mr Shearman said they threw themselves upon the Council and prayed that God would be with the latter in its decisions After he had concluded, Mr Shearman took a seat on the platform near Dr Bacon, and was in a short time joined by Rossiter W Raymond

Examination of members of the Committee

A lengthy examination of the different members of the Committee was then gone through in relation to the different questions contained in the letter missive, during which Mr Shearman explained the motives of the Committee in objecting to the churches of Drs Storrs and Bheddington being represented in the Council He said that supposing Judge Van Cott had accepted the objections and agreed to withdraw the churches, he could have so represented the case to those churches that there would not be any apparent discourtesy

Mr. Shaw of Illinois said that he understood Mr Shearman to say that the Committee of Plymouth Church agreed to withdraw the protest, and Mr Shearman replied "Oh no, we never agreed to withdraw after once putting in the protest"

By Whom Called.

A number of questions were asked by different delegates with a view of ascertaining whether or not the first letters sent to the church were written as if coming from a church or individuals, and it was satisfactorily shown that they were written by Judge VanCott and Mr. Shearman as individuals. Dr. Bacon testifying that from the letter which he received, he was unable to say by whom he had been called. Dr. Bacon went through a long and tedious examination as to the meaning of the phrase "Roll of the church," as to whether a person became a member of the church before his name was entered upon it, and the course pursued when his name was dropped.

When 5 o'clock had arrived, one of the delegates desired an adjournment until to-morrow morning, that the various committees might get through their work, but it being shown that the examination thus being carried on was necessary to the selection of their labor, the motion was voted down and it was decided that the Council continue at the regular hour.

The Andover Church Letter.

During the intermission Mr. Beecher and Prof. Smyth had some conversation as to the letter from the Andover church, the latter stating to the Council and Mr. Beecher suggesting in case the letter of Prof. Phelps be read, that Prof. Smyth be objected to this, and Mr. Beecher asked him to make a plain statement of the case to the Council. In reply to a second appeal to state his case, Prof. Symthe said "You have the letter Mr Beecher, that will speak for itself." And with this the interview ended

TRIAL OF GENERAL BABCOCK.

Opening for the Defence.

ST LOUIS, Feb 16 Immediately on the opening of the court this morning ex Attorney Williams rose and addressed the jury in the opening of the defence of Babcock He devoted considerable time to an argument of the probabilities of the case and his criticism of the evidence for the Government assuming that what the Government had presented was competent evidence which was by no means admitted Mr Williams said the case might present some suspicious circumstances but by no means ground on which to base a conviction He then proceeded with some explanations which would throw a different light upon the communications between Babcock and the Ring At that time he said Joyce and McDonald were trusted officials men of influence and possessing the confidence of good people Gen Babcock on the other hand was a warm hearted confiding and generous man who did not give up friendship once cemented for whispers of calumny

Gen Williams then traced Babcock's military career from West Point which he eulogized as a place where honor and honesty were inculcated and where thieves and robbers were not admitted A good deal of attention was given to Gen Babcock's relations to the President and to the trust and confidence reposed in him as private Secretary to the President His official delinquencies would more or less reflect upon and cast a shade on the Chief Executive of the nation No ingratitude would be so black as this it would bring disgrace on one who had put such a trust in him

THE ART ASSOCIATION

Its Annual Meeting—Reports of Secretary and Treasurer—Election of Officers—A Social Time

The annual meeting of the Art Association was held in the Free City rooms last evening A large number gathered and every seat in the room was filled Vice President Hamlin presided The reports of the Treasurer and Secretary, Mr C L Dakin, were presented The Treasurer's report showed that the total amount of cash received was $416 73, total amount paid out $344 91, balance $71 82

The Secretary in his report referred to the growth of the society during the first year of its existence The progress made has been greater than one could expect The number of active members is 150 The Association took possession of their rooms April 1, 1875 and at that time had a very pleasant meeting The first annual spring exhibition was held last May, and was pronounced a decided success One hundred and fifty three pictures were exhibited, of which one hundred and eighteen were oil paintings The children of the city took much pleasure in visiting the exhibition, and seemed to exhibit a decided taste for art This can be accounted for by the fact that drawing is taught them in the schools, and they have thereby begun to form a taste for pictures

About one-third of the actual members of the Association are artists

During the year several most interesting lectures have been delivered by members, and each has afforded a high degree of satisfaction to those who were fortunate enough to hear them

The following are the officers elected for the ensuing year A C Hamlin, President, J. C. Weston Vice-President, C. L. Dakin, Secretary and Treasurer, A. R. Farnham, V. Darling, G. E. Godfrey, Mrs G. W. Stevens, Mrs W F. Shaw, Mrs J Rickor, Executive Committee

Twenty new members were elected The subject of having a new cabinet in which to keep geological specimens was next brought up Several members spoke favorably of the project, which will probably be carried out, and an endeavor will be made to get up a large collection of geological specimens of eastern Maine.

The next meeting will be held March second, when Dr. Hamlin will deliver a lecture upon the subject of "Glass"; music will also be furnished by Andrews' orchestra.

After the business was over a collation, refreshments, dancing followed After supper the fun began, a number danced, some looked on, and others participated in a social game of cards. The success of the meeting was very gratifying to all, and the reports of such good times will encourage others to join and help the association in its work

GRANDFATHER'S TENACRE LOT.

A BANGOR REMINISCENCE.

BY A. M. E.

In the long, long ago, when the town was so young
Their porches, with steeples, were not,
The young, then unfettered, danced gaily along,
By my grandfather's "Ten-acre Lot."

At my grandfather's cottage, in time of the "war,"
When kept many "Papers of State,"
An elegant-coated officer, hastened to call,
But got there a little too late.

In beautiful dignity, stood Madam C,
As my grandmother opened the door.—
"Good morning," she said, "there no are with our
Spies,
And believe me, you'll find nothing more."

"I will turn down the house," said the British in wrath,
"Dolson, can it please you," she cried;
"We are passengers here, and the house is not ours,
Its mistress now stands by your side."

He turned at the word—"What a beauty" he cried
To the "traitor" then leading the van,
"Who's the handsomest woman we have," he replied,
"And her husband, the homeliest man."

The "papers" were gone; there were "Carts" in those days,
Believe me, or not, so who read
Perhaps they were not like the cars of to-day,
But not one made pretty good speed.

Many years have gone by, since the long, long ago,
And the house and its inmates are not,
But a stately modern mansion, now graces the site
Where once, stood my grandfather's cot

"Elm Bank" is the name, they have given the place,
And it suits well the beautiful spot.
But I know I owe to recall the old name,
Of the "Grandfather's Ten acre Lot"

Bangor, Feb. 14, 1876.

FAMILY MEDICINE

—AND—

HEALTH-RESTORER.

General Debility.

Debility is a term used to denote deficiency of blood. The nutritive constituents of the blood are deficient in the proper proportion, with the watery part in excess. Debility is frequently a concomitant of a variety of diseases. The power of the nerves to act is lessened. The patient is languid, and cannot bear much exertion. The circulation is irregular, fainting and weakness ensue, palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, with a mere motion of the whole machine throughout, is the consequence. The vital functions are languishingly performed. The muscular strength is diminished, and we feel no inclination for exertion. Gradually the digestive organs become deranged, the bowels become costive, a burning sensation in the stomach, succeeded by a ravenous appetite, indigestion, as it is called, succeeds, accompanied by flatulency, and a feeling of fullness and uneasiness in the stomach, which gives a disagreeable sensation. Very frequently, a feeling of fullness and pain in the head, side, breast, or other parts of the body, are also of frequent occurrence. The secretions become more and more vitiated. In females the menses are irregular, and in some cases suspended or very scanty, or perhaps profuse. The skin is often affected, and dryness, with a harsh feeling of the skin, is a common symptom. The spirits are depressed, and a feeling of despondency is very common. Patients are not able to assign any particular cause for their sufferings, but they feel miserable. The secretions are sometimes diminished, in females the menses are irregular, or even suspended, or very scanty, or perhaps profuse. MARVELOUS EFFECT.

H. R. STEVENS

DEAR SIR—I have used VEGETINE, and feel it my duty to acknowledge the great benefit it has done me. In the spring of the year 1853 I was sick from general debility, caused by overwork, want of sleep and improper food. I was sick a long time, and tried many remedies, without receiving any benefit from any of them, until I was persuaded to try Vegetine. Before I had taken three bottles I was improved wonderfully, and now I am as well as I ever was. I go about to attend to my business, and am stronger than I was for years. I cannot say too much in your favor, for I feel that I owe my life to the use of your valuable medicine.

ELIZABETH C. FOLEY,
21 Wilkins street, Charlestown, Mass.

SWOLLEN LIMBS.

LEBANON, N. H., Jan. 25, 1873.

MR. STEVENS—Sir: I feel it to be my duty to inform you of the effect your Vegetine Purifier has had upon my family. My wife commenced taking it a year ago, in the most distressed state. Her limbs were so swollen that it was impossible for her to get into or out of a carriage, or to walk painfully to go up or down stairs. Indeed, I could not easily stand on my legs. Her appetite was so poor she could not eat a mouthful without distress. My appetite improved and she gained strength, and I can now attribute my wife's health to your medicine, and I feel I owe it to Vegetine.

Yours truly,
JOHN H. DILLON.

A PERFECT CURE.

CHARLESTOWN, June 11, 1871.

MR. R. STEVENS—Sir: I do certify that I SOTHING made a perfect cure of me when my health was so shattered I was not expected to live. I was consumptive, and could not survive the day.

MRS. LEDDON, 75 Cook street.

VEGETINE

FOR TEN TIMES ITS COST.

The great benefit I have received from the use of VEGETINE induces me to give my testimony in its favor. I feel it to be the best of all preparations for purifying the health but a preventive of this exceptional time of spring, and all who need a purifier I would not be without it for ten times its cost.
